10. WARRANTY AND LIABILITY

- 10.1. User agrees that the Services are provided on an "AS IS" and "WHERE-AS" basis. Vendor makes no warranties with respect to the performance of the Services, whether express, implied, statutory or otherwise, and Vendor expressly disclaims all other warranties, including but not limited to the implied warranties of non-infringement of Third Party rights, merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. Vendor does not warrant or represent that the Services will be compatible with any application, program or platform not specifically identified as compatible in the Services. User accepts and acknowledges that the Services are essentially dependent on software, which means that flawless operation and permanent availability cannot be assured. User accepts the Services “AS IS”. Vendor does not supply and is not responsible for any Third Party services (“Third Party Services”) and/or Third Party content and materials (“Third Party Materials”), which may be subject to their own licenses, end-user agreements, privacy and security policies, and/or terms of use. Vendor makes no warranty as to Third Party Services and/or Third Party Materials.

- 10.2. Without prejudice to other provisions of these Terms and applicable mandatory laws, the aggregate liability of Vendor arising out of or in connections with the Subscription Agreement and/or the applicability of these Terms, regardless of the cause of action or the theory of liability, whether in tort, contract, or otherwise, will not exceed (i) the aggregate of the amount(s) paid by a paying User for the Services during the three (3) months preceding the event that gives rise to Vendor’s liability with regard to paying Users; and (ii) EUR 50 with regard to non-paying Users. In any event, Vendor will not be liable for any indirect damage, which will at least be understood as consequential damages, financial or commercial damages, loss of profit or income, lost opportunities, lost savings, damage due to business discontinuity, reputational damage and damage from legal proceedings initiated by Third Parties against User.
- 10.3. Nothing in the Subscription Agreement and/or these Terms will exclude or limit either Party’s liability for fraud or willful misconduct.
- 10.4. Vendor is responsible for the proper provision of the Payment Services.
- 10.5. Vendor also does its utmost best to guarantee the security and confidentiality of electronic banking login data provided by the Payer. However, Vendor does not hold the funds of the Payer in any way.
- 10.6. Vendor is not responsible for input errors that the Payer did not correct before confirming the initiation of the Payment Order.
- 10.7. Vendor will inform the Payment Service User by e-mail or through the Website of any suspected or actual fraud or security threats.
- 10.8. If User would suffer damages resulting from the PIS or AIS for which Vendor is liable, the aggregate liability of Vendor can never be higher than the Vendor’s available insurance coverage.
- 10.9. Vendor reserves the right to change the functionalities and availability of the Services at all times and at its own discretion. Insofar as reasonably possible, any expected change in availability of the Services will be communicated in advance through the Website.
- 10.10. Vendor does its best to develop and provide User with the Services to the standards that may be expected from a professional service provider in the sector. User understands and accepts, however, that the Services should only be construed as an informational tool, that the assessments provided through the Services do not constitute professional advice of any kind from which any rights or warranties can be derived.

11. MISCELLANEOUS

- 11.1. Whenever possible, the provisions of the Subscription Agreement and these Terms will be interpreted in such a manner as to be valid and enforceable under the applicable law. However, if one or more provisions of the Subscription Agreement and these Terms are found to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, in whole or in part, the remainder of that provision and of the Subscription Agreement and these Terms will remain in full force and effect as if such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision had never been contained herein. Moreover, in such an event, Vendor will amend the invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision(s) or any part thereof and/or agree on a new provision, in such a way as to reflect insofar as possible the purpose of the invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision(s).

- 11.2. The failure of a Party to enforce any right or provision in the Subscription Agreement and these Terms will not constitute a waiver of such right or provision unless acknowledged and agreed to by that Party in writing.
- 11.3. No joint venture, partnership, employment, or agency relationship exists between User and Vendor as a result of the Subscription Agreement and these Terms or use of the Services.
- 11.4. Vendor is, in its sole discretion, entitled to rely on Third Parties for the fulfilment of its obligations under the Subscription Agreement and these Terms. The Subscription Agreement and these Terms with respect to Vendor cannot be construed as being of a strictly personal nature. All rights and obligations with respect to Vendor pursuant to the Subscription Agreement and these Terms can be transferred or assigned in whole or in part to a Third Party without consent of User thereto. User is not allowed to transfer or assign its rights and obligations under the Subscription Agreement and these Terms to anyone else, unless Vendor explicitly approves to such transfer or assignment in writing.
- 11.5. Each Party must deliver all notices or other communications required or permitted under the Subscription Agreement and these Terms in writing to the other Party by regular or registered mail, by e-mail, through the Platform or through any other channel Vendor makes available to User.

Notices will be deemed effective upon receipt or refusal of delivery. If delivered by registered mail, any such notice will be considered to have been received three (3) Business Days after it was mailed (by regular or registered mail)- as evidenced by the postmark. If delivered by e-mail, any such notice will be considered to have been received the first business day after delivery.

- 11.6. The Subscription Agreement and these Terms will be interpreted fairly in accordance with its terms, without any strict construction in favor of or against either Party and in accordance with Belgian law, without giving effect to any laws of conflict.

The courts of Ghent (Belgium) will have exclusive jurisdiction over any dispute or controversy arising from or relating to the Subscription Agreement and these Terms or its subject matter.
